

Bio Jumana Al-Yasiri

Jumana Al-Yasiri is a Paris-based, Damascus-born, arts manager and international cooperation expert. Her areas of expertise span a wide palette of disciplines ranging from performing and visual arts, literature and film. She is also a regular panelist, writer and translator. Her research and publications deal with art and migration, postcolonial discourses in the arts, and the international representation and working conditions of artists and cultural workers from the Arab region and the Global South. From multicultural background, Jumana holds a BA in Theatre Studies from Damascus Higher Institute for Dramatic Arts and an MA in Comparative Literature from the University Paris VIII.